INQUEST LAW

SUBSCRIBE NOW TO THE JOURNAL OF THE INQUEST LAWYERS GROUP

Published three times a year, Inquest Law is the journal of the INQUEST Lawyers Group (ILG) and is written by the leading lawyers in the field and invited contributors.

It is the only publicly available journal that provides regular extensive casenotes and reports on inquests following contentious deaths, with a particular focus on deaths in custody.

With in-depth coverage of recent developments in inquest law and practice, the magazine also keeps practitioners informed of updates on policy changes. It is a vital resource for anyone working in and around the investigation and inquest system, and is distributed widely amongst lawyers, coroners, academics and policy makers.

Issue 13 – Relaunch issue of Inquest Law – Lord Ramsbotham interview
• Editorial – includes coverage of proposals for a Standing Commission on Custodial Deaths
• Rail crashes – inquest or inquiries – Louise Christian
• Recent Developments in Inquest Law

Issue 14 – Interview with HM Chief Inspector of Prisons, Anne Owers
• Editorial: Failing penal system needs Royal Commission
• A deadly environment for women – an extract from Dying on the Inside
• Appeal Court: Judges rule on article 2 and gross negligence

Issue 15
• Editorial – includes coverage of the Counter Terrorism Bill proposals for “secret” inquests
• Inquests into the deaths of Diana, Princess of Wales and Dodi Al Fayed
• Narrative verdicts: the correct test of causation
• Appeal Court: judgments on AC, Jason Smith and Van Colle and Smith

Issue 16
• Editorial – Coroners & Justice Bill 2009
• Detailed coverage of the lessons from the inquest into the death of Jean Charles de Menezes
• Appeal Court: Judgments on out of scope exceptional funding, Savage, Platts, Moss and Rickwood

Issue 17
• The legacy of the inquest into the death of Blair Peach in 1979
• Counsel to the Inquest by Nigel Meadows, HM Coroner for Manchester
